Conservatives in City Decide to Name Candidates

Conservative-Unionist Slate Will Be Selected at Nominating Convention to Be Held on Tuesday Evening Next—Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe and Col. H. T. Goodland Are Mentioned

CONSERVATIVES in Victoria are back in the fight! Nominations of four Conservatives favorable to a union form of government to contest all seats in this riding was unanimously decided upon at a meeting of representative Conservatives, held in the Campbell Building, last night.

A nominating convention is called for Tuesday at 8 p.m., in the Campbell Building, Douglas Street, where a slate will be chosen. Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe and Col. H. T. Goodland are mentioned definitely among those who will appear their names to go before the meeting. Premier Tolmie and the Minister of Education will be asked to address the convention. Other prominent Conservatives are being approached in reference to choice of a Conservative slate.

REPRESENTATIVE MEETING

The announcement was made by W. C. Winkel, who occupied the chair at a meeting attended by Conservatives from all parts of the city. Among many present were Mrs. J. Robertson, J. P. Crook, H. H. Hinchliffe, J. H. Harvey, G. Cookson, G. F. Salmon, S. Copland, J. E. Johnson, A. Hinder, H. Turner, R. Baxter, W. S. Moring, J. J. Rothwell, J. P. Dickson, and Messrs. Lynn, Plummer, R. Palmer, J. Ringshaw and Mackenzie.

An official statement was issued, setting out the decision of the meeting to sponsor a straight Conservative ticket, to be composed of those favorably disposed to a union form of administration in the best interests of the province; and to make arrangements for the nominating convention on Tuesday next, at the Campbell Building. The statement was as follows:

ISSUE STATEMENT
"The question of concerted action to place before the electors of Victoria a Conservative ticket in support of the Unionist movement was under review.

ADMITS HE SET REICHSTAG FIRE

Van der Lubbe's Confession Illustrated in Court With Map

LEIPZIG, Germany, Sept. 29 (AP).—A reluctant admission that he had set fire to the Reichstag Building last February, ripping apart even his coat and shirt to serve as tinder, was drawn today from Marinus Van der Lubbe as he stood, stoop-shouldered and with downcast eyes, before the Supreme Court.

Presiding Judge Buenger, reading an earlier confession, suddenly demanded: "Do you admit setting fire yourself to the Reichstag?" "Yes," the Dutchman replied, almost inaudibly.

A SUDDEN IDEA
Later Van der Lubbe said, "I had no intention of so doing when I awoke that day. The idea came to me as I walked to the Reichstag at 3 o'clock. I spent the afternoon at the suburb, returning to the city at 8 o'clock."

Two large charts were mounted back of the judge's bench to aid in following the confession as it was read by Buenger.
The confession said Van der Lubbe admitted climbing up the west facade of the Parliament Building, making his way to a broad ledge and then smashing a window to gain admittance.

MATCHES AND TINDER
The fire, the document continued, was set with matches and tinder, the Dutchman dabbling in an irregular course through the building and into several rooms.
The hearing was adjourned until Wednesday after the completion of Van der Lubbe's testimony because of a Nazi lawyers' convention here.

EVIDENCE SHOWN OF IMPROVEMENT

Car Loadings and Bank Clearings Gain Considerably Since Last Year

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 (CP).—Improved economic conditions in September, as compared with the same month last year, are noted by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.
Car loadings in the eastern division reflected marked betterment in the movement of commodities during the early weeks of September, the bureau reports. The gain over September, 1932, was about 12 per cent.

The gain in bank clearings when the early weeks of September, 1933, are compared with a corresponding period this year, is slightly more than 9 per cent. Bank clearings in Canada totaled $224,000,000 in the week ended September 21, compared with $249,000,000 in the corresponding week of 1932.

Boy Rides Wild Dolphins

WHITTIER'S "barefoot boy with cheeks of tan" has a modern rival in Miles Overholt, Jr., pictured as he "rides the wild dolphins" on the docks at Catalina Island, Cal. The waters surrounding the picturesque island off the coast of Southern California are crowded with schools of dolphins.

Rail Union Heads Given Authority To Order Strike

Result of Walkout Ballot Announced and Officials Meet to Determine Next Step in Wage Dispute—Another Conference May Be Held With Railway Officers

MONTREAL, Sept. 29 (CP).—With their hands strengthened by a vote among about 30,000 members in favor of a strike, leaders of the railway running trades were tonight considering the next step in their fight against a second 10 per cent cut in basic wage rates.

Since the tabulation of the vote was completed yesterday, the twenty-one general chairmen and five union vice-presidents have been in conference behind closed doors. Announcement of the result of the strike ballot was made today after the railways were first notified as a courtesy, but the figures for and against were not revealed.

The bare announcement the men had given the union leaders power to call a strike was not accompanied by any statement as to future action, although rumors about the headquarters were that another wage conference would be held shortly with railway heads.

From the railways no comment was forthcoming. The result of the vote probably occasioned little surprise, however, as it had been freely predicted for several days.

FORMING BIG ASSOCIATION
Further efforts to settle the question amicably should fail, the union heads would have to decide the date of the strike and make other preparations. The question of whether railway workers outside the running trades would join in a walk-out would be considered. A co-operative association of railway labor unions has been formed to deal with this among other questions.

The second cut in basic rates went into effect on May 1. A previous cut of 10 per cent, while not involved in the strike vote, is still subject to dispute, and a test case is being started in the courts to collect the deductions made after February 1, 1933, on which date the men claim their agreement for a reduced wage expired.

LONDON, Sept. 30 (AP).—Two British ships, the Carinthia and the Hartside, and the Dutch vessel Mittra, early today were rushing to help the Latvian steamship Andromeda, which sent an SOS, saying she was in trouble.
Lloyd's at Land's End, received the Andromeda's call, which gave her position as 48-40 north and 73 west, but which did not specify the nature of her distress. The Andromeda left Barry on September 28 for Algiers.

Injured Baby Girl Found Abandoned in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Sept. 29 (CP).—A month-old baby girl was recovering from the effects of exposure and a broken leg, while police pressed their investigation in an effort to discover how the child came to be abandoned on a veranda on Broadway West, early today.

Awakened by the sound of crying shortly before 6 o'clock this morning, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. May discovered the child in a flower box. Police were called and the infant taken to hospital. Hot packs were applied and the broken limb set, and the tiny girl was apparently recovering.

Although the child was cold, it is not believed to have been on the veranda for any length of time, as it was not suffering from hunger.

SHY FROM UGLY WORD AT GENEVA

Both French and Germans Eager to Deny Existence of Crisis

SUCCESS HINGES ON REPLY FROM HITLER

GENEVA, Sept. 29 (CP).—"Crisis" was a word shunned tonight by the world statesmen here for the League Assembly and next month's disarmament conference, with the exception of one of the British delegates. But Baron Konstantin von Neurath and Dr. Joseph Goebbels, respectively Foreign Minister and Propaganda Minister of Germany, were speaking to Berlin to lay the disarmament proposals before Adolf Hitler, and on the reply they will bring back to Geneva, early next week, may well depend the success or failure of the past few weeks' feverish efforts to prepare the way for a stand-still period in armaments.

FRENCH PROPOSAL

Backed by Great Britain and Italy, France proposes a four-year period of "as you were" in armaments and at the end of that time, provided all the participants keep the terms of the truce, she would reopen the entire armaments question with efforts towards concrete reduction in land and air forces. The German delegates received this non-committally, but as they left tonight there was a noticeable stiffening in German circles here. On top of numerous German declarations that the crying need was disarmament by others there were doubtless representations that Germany must be accorded equality in arms.

GERMANY WILL INSIST

France, through Joseph Paul-Boncour, her Foreign Minister, has already told Germany that she does not agree to any rearmament. But Von Neurath told German newspaper correspondents before he left Geneva that Germany will insist on the right to possess arms at a level to which her neighbors would eventually descend. This was joined by the French, underlining the demand that Germany must be accorded equality in arms.

MAJOR WILLIAM C. ANGUS, Manager of the Victoria Phoenix Brewery, who succumbed to a short, unexpected illness at St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver, last night. Major Angus had a distinguished military career and was held in high esteem among his friends and a wide circle of friends and associates.

MAJOR ANGUS PASSES AWAY

Well Known Business Man and Military Officer Succumbs to Illness

VANCOUVER, Sept. 29 (CP).—Major W. C. Angus, well known in business circles in Victoria, died at St. Paul's Hospital shortly after 10 o'clock tonight.

Major Angus had been operated on earlier today for an abscess of the brain.

HIGHLY RESPECTED

Born in Glasgow, Scotland, Major Angus joined the Imperial Army in his youth and rose to the rank of major.

Wildest Disorder Arises as Machine Guns Clatter in Streets While Heavy Army Force Sets Out to Disperse Communists—Bullets Whine Round Newspaper Building

HAVANA, Sept. 29 (AP).—Widespread and heavy firing throughout Havana late today that started when the army set out to disperse thousands of Communist demonstrators resulted, according to a preliminary check, in the killing of four persons and the wounding of an undetermined number.

The clatter of machine guns and the firing of rifles and pistols reduced uptown Havana to a scene of the wildest disorders as students and A.B.C. members joined the heaviest army forces ever to patrol Havana streets.

The early outbreaks of shooting centred along Reina Street, where Communists were reported to have sniped at the soldiers from the top of the Anti-Imperial League headquarters at Reina and Gerardo Streets.

IN MEMORY OF STUDENT

The Communist demonstration was in honor of Julio Antonio Mella, a student leader killed in Mexico in 1929, whose ashes were brought here this week-end in boxes.
Reports indicated one army captain and four soldiers, including one machine-gunner, were among the wounded. The captain, Brander Ruda, was in a critical condition. The dead included a fifteen-year-old boy.

Joe Gibson, an American photographer for Universal news reel, was shot in the leg, but not seriously wounded, while making pictures.
Gibson was one of several photographers on the roof of the Hotel Nevea Isla, but no one else in the group was injured. Five shots struck him in the leg, apparently from the guns of snipers on nearby buildings.

KILLED IN VOLLEYS
Later in the afternoon heavy firing began around the Diario de la Marina newspaper building, where the Associated Press offices are.

STEEL PLANT Is Besieged By Strikers

CLAIRTON, Pa., Sept. 29 (AP).—Eighteen hundred steel workers slept on improvised beds in the plant by-products plant of the Carnegie Steel Company tonight, while twice their number of beligerent coal miners jeered and shouted outside for them to join in a sympathetic strike.

Company officials ordered coal and mattresses hauled in during the day while the miners were storming the entrance, making it unnecessary for their men to go home through the milling crowds of coal-diggers outside.

PRESIDENT SIGNS Coal Mines Code

HYDE PARK, N.Y., Sept. 30 (AP).—President Roosevelt early this morning signed the agreement governing hours and wages in the troubled bituminous mines of Western Pennsylvania operated by the iron and steel companies.

The pact, was hastened here by Donald Richberg, counsel of the National Recovery Administration, and Mr. Roosevelt expects it to bring about the return of approximately 75,000 miners to the pits on Monday.

FIVE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

SEATTLE, Sept. 29 (AP).—Five persons, three men and two women, all of Tacoma, were killed tonight in a terrific collision between an automobile and a stage coach in Snoqualmie Pass, seven miles west of the summit.

The crash was the worst of the year in Western Washington.
The dead: Rev. Ralph C. Sargent, a Baptist minister; Dr. George Diehlman, a chiropractor; Katherine Diehlman, his wife; J. E. Tuttle and Mrs. J. E. Tuttle.

Two small boys and several others were injured when the heavy bus, travelling eastward, crashed into the automobile, coming west over the pass. The automobile, witnesses said, swerved across the road into the path of the bus.

DEPENDS ON RULING
In a review of the present world wheat situation, Mr. MacPherson emphasized Canada's surplus this year was 219,000,000 bushels, compared to its normal surplus of 40,000,000 bushels. United States' normal surplus was 125,000,000 bushels, but this year it was 286,000,000, with the world's carryover at 700,000,000 bushels, compared to the average carryover from 1922 to 1929 of 325,000,000 bushels.

ANTARCTIC PILOT REJOINS VESSEL

The long 7,000-mile journey to Dunedin, New Zealand, should prove excellent for his complete recovery, and he will be under the care of the ship's surgeon, Dr. Berg.

The Wyatt Earp leaves Capetown today after having been completely restocked with fresh food and refueled, and will pick up Lincoln Ellsworth, leader of the expedition, in New Zealand.

W. E. PEIRCE IS C.C.F. NOMINEE

To Be Candidate in Saanich Riding—R. J. McFarlane Retires From Field

W. E. Peirce, of Lake Hill, was unanimously nominated C.C.F. candidate for Saanich at the coming provincial election, when that political party held its nominating convention last night in the Pemberton Building.

Amid cheers from twenty-four delegates from the twelve C.C.F. groups of Saanich, Mr. Peirce in responding, called on the group leaders for still further unity and asked them to install enthusiasm into the campaign.

R. J. McFarlane, who entered the field some months ago as an independent for Saanich, stated that he would immediately withdraw in favor of the Saanich C.C.F. candidate, Mr. Peirce. He then offered his services to Mr. Peirce.

Also withdrawing, declaring that united effort within the ranks of the C.C.F. party was necessary in every detail, A. W. O. Kellow, who had been nominated, announced his withdrawal.

With the election of Mr. Peirce as candidate, the office of secretary for the Saanich C.C.F. group, which the C.C.F. was vacated, and D. S. L. Peirce was elected.

The gathering then elected W. J. Dunn delegate to the provincial conference of the C.C.F., which opens this morning at 10 o'clock in the Labor Hall, Broughton and Government Streets.

IN VANCOUVER

Major Angus left Kamloops to accept an important post in a Vancouver brewery, and later came to Victoria in the capacity of manager of the Victoria Phoenix Brewery, a position he held up to the time of his death.

He continued to keep his contact with ex-service men, and on taking up his residence in Victoria, joined the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion. He took an unusually keen interest in service men's problems, and won the confidence of his fellow members. He served a term as first vice-president of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, an honor he greatly appreciated from those who had bestowed it upon him.

SPORT ENTHUSIAST

Major Angus also took an enthusiastic interest in sports, particularly soccer, being president of the St. Andrew's Soccer Club of Vancouver for several seasons. Last year he was president of the Pacific Coast League.

Golf also occupied his attention, his enthusiasm in this field of sport activity being surpassed only by soccer. Up to the time of his death he was vice-president of the Uplands Golf Club. Major Angus also was a keen fisherman.

CAPABLE LEADER

Although a comparatively new member of the Chamber of Commerce, the members of that organization looked upon him for leadership in many problems with which he was familiar. Confidence in his ability as an organizer and leader was evinced last Spring when the members of the Chamber of Commerce chose him as chairman of the general committee of the Home Products Fair, which incidentally was an outstanding success.

Philanthropic in an unassuming manner, Major Angus' generosity will be remembered by many charitable organizations and individual cases where he quietly gave a helping hand. He identified himself with the Rotary movement in this city, and was a past director of this service organization.

Surviving him are his widow, one daughter, Doris, his mother in Scotland, four brothers and two sisters in Scotland and a brother in Vancouver.

The demonstration was to have been climaxed at a brick obelisk in the park, where Mella's ashes were to have been buried. The soldiers, however, stopped working on the memorial, destroyed it, and then posted guards to see that no one approached.

The hundred soldiers had been called out to patrol the streets, but what started the shooting could not be determined.

A rifle, pistol and machine gun fire began popping from a number of points, the thousands in the streets, including throngs of curious onlookers, rushed to cover. A general strike called by the National Confederation in connection with the Mella memorial demonstration, had closed practically all doors against them.

Frightened householders scurried into their doorways, blocking and bolting all lightly behind them.

It was unanimously agreed by the Conservatives assembled that inasmuch as the province is a unit in its domestic affairs, it should have as such, in order to encourage this political union, whose motive would be to cement a closer relationship in its domestic affairs along sane and sensible lines.

Joshua Hinchcliffe be asked to outline their views on union government at this meeting."

Independent of the meeting at the Campbell Building, the McBride Conservative Club met last evening, and pledged its support to candidates in the election of known Conservative views. W. S. Kershaw, secretary of the organization, said the following resolution carried: "Resolved that in the forthcoming provincial general election the McBride Conservative Club offer its corporate support to those candidates of known Conservative views."

INDEPENDENT ACTION

Moving independently on the same evening both meetings appeared to have arrived at a common decision in regard to the desirability of Conservative representation in Victoria, a traditional Conservative stronghold heretofore.

Sentiment at the meeting in the Campbell Building centered around the thought that Conservatives of the city should have opportunity to

Still Searching for Heir to Huge Estate

Thousands on the Verge of Starvation—Food Dropped From Air Lost

TAMPICO, Mexico, Sept. 29 (AP).—Flood-swollen waters of the Rio San Juan swept again over the city today, vastly complicating relief work and threatening new peril to thousands made destitute by Sunday's hurricane.

Heavy rains in the interior have caused both the Papango and the Tamez to reach flood stage and the National Weather Observatory warned that tropical disturbances might continue until October 10.

SITUATION IS DESPERATE

Dispatches from regions adjacent to the Tamez described a desperate situation. Hundreds were forced to exist as best they could in neck-deep water. Perils of the day were said to be in danger of dying.

Victoria and Saanich Farm and Dairymen's Association Registered Protest at Meeting

In an effort to stabilize the price of milk in Victoria, the Victoria and Saanich Farm and Dairymen's Association, last night, appointed a committee to interview wholesalers and retailers.

A resolution was also passed by the members protesting against the public using milk bottles for purposes other than carrying milk. The matter will be taken up with provincial health authorities.

Electricity count in milk sold in Victoria was extremely low last night, the meeting was told by Chairman A. Lambrecht, who quoted comparative figures to illustrate the decrease of gallons.

Efforts will also be made to have all dairies delivering raw milk in adjusting milk prices, rate, the standards to that of grade "A."

THOROUGHLY AGREED

Some of the British delegates insisted tonight there should be no rearming of Germany, bolstering the understanding that in the Paris conversations Great Britain and France were thoroughly agreed on the programme to be followed.

Both the French and German representatives took pains to deny rumors the disarmament talks face either a breakdown or a deadlock, despite the use of the word "crisis" by a British delegate. The probability some concession may be made to Germany in the matter of defensive weapons was mentioned by one of the French representatives.

SIX WEEKS WITH SCIATICA

Could Not Sit Down—Even To Eat

Now Recommends Kruschen

Here is an extraordinarily strong recommendation of a remedy for sciatica from one who has suffered the complaint in its most severe form. If you have ever felt the twinges of sciatica, you should certainly read it. If you know anyone who has sciatica, you should tell them about it.

The recommendation comes from Mr. T. P. R. He writes: "I suffered from sciatica for about six weeks. At times I could not sit or lie down, but had to walk all the time. I could not even sit down to eat. I was told by my neighbor to try Kruschen Salts, which I did, taking a teaspoonful in a tumbler of warm water every morning. When I had taken one-and-a-half bottles the sciatica left me, and I have not felt it since. I owe a lot of thanks to Kruschen."

The pains of sciatica are a symptom of deeper trouble—the same trouble that causes rheumatism, gout and lumbago. They are a sign of an impure blood.

stream. They show that poisons have crept into the blood. Kruschen is a combination of six natural salts, which ensure internal cleanliness and keep the blood-stream pure. New and refreshed blood is sent coursing to every fibre of your being. Then sciatica and those kindred ills all pass you by.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

W. E. Haskins, president of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, that the injunctions had been granted and served on the shippers and the two railway companies, they broke into cheers and dispersed.

Word spread rapidly through the Okanagan Valley on Thursday that an attempt was to be made by the Kelco Co-operative Growers, Ltd., and the Holywood Orchards, to market bulk car loads of apples.

RALLY TO RAILWAYS

Growers rallied from all around Kelowna, spurred by their vigilance committee. President Haskins warned it would be disastrous to permit evasion of stabilization board regulations. He asked the growers to accompany him to the railway sidings at the plants of the companies in question.

Warned by packing-case bonfires, about five hundred gathered there. When a yard engine approached to pick up six car loads of fruit which the growers believed were packed in bulk, the crowd massed across the tracks. They defied the trainmen to pass them and finally won their passive battle. The engine withdrew.

Seeking the injunction to halt movement of fruit in bulk and graded contrary to stabilization board regulations, Roger F. Borrett, grower, charged fruit was being delivered from Hollywood Orchards packing house into cars in bulk and that apples were not graded. Borrett further alleged he had been told by Joseph Casorso, a director of the Kelco Co-operative Growers' Association, that the association did not intend to comply with stabilization board regulations regarding bulk shipments.

At 7:30 a.m. Rev. F. Conley, vicar of St. Michael's, celebrated, while at 11 o'clock Rt. Rev. C. D. Schofield, Bishop of Columbia, celebrated, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon A. J. Dewdney. Ven. Stocken, vicar of St. Martin-in-the-Field; Rev. H. M. Bolton, of Melchior; Rev. O. L. Jull, vicar of St. Marks, and Rev. S. Ryall, of Cedar Hill.

In the evening Mr. Conley conducted a service which was attended by a large congregation. After the service, a social hour was held, at which a number of the older residents of the district spoke. Prominent among the guests were: Mrs. Duval, the only person present who had attended the dedication of the church half a century ago; William Trickey, W. Carmichael, of Victoria; Reeve William Crouch, of Saanich, and H. C. Oldfield.

Fierce fights among the felons broke out during the late recreation period. The convicts were herded back to their cells almost immediately, but later started burning mattresses and yelling like madmen. The uproar could be heard for blocks.

Large throngs began gathering outside the prison, attracted by the clamor and confusion. Prison officials were too busy to make details known, though no help was immediately asked of city police.

DEATH TAKES A. M. JOHNSON

Noted Criminal Lawyer Dies
Here Following Illness—
Funeral on Monday

Funeral services for Archie Mainwaring Johnson, K.C., 520 Linden Avenue, who passed away in the Jubilee Hospital early yesterday morning, will be held at St. John's Church, at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. Rev. Canon P. A. Chadwick will officiate, and interment will be in the family plot at Royal Oak Burial Park.

Mr. Johnson's death was not unexpected. He was brought here from Prince George under doctor's care, having had a relapse to an illness he had been suffering from for some time.

In the death of Mr. Johnson, the province has lost one of its most outstanding criminal lawyers and prosecutors. He was at one time deputy Attorney-General, and was the first chairman of the Liquor Control Board, devising and putting into operation the system of Government control now used in the state monopoly of the liquor trade.

BORN IN NEW ZEALAND
He was born in Christchurch, New Zealand, in 1870, being the son of the late E. M. Johnson, who for years was a prominent figure in real estate and insurance circles of this city.

Educated at Bath College, Bath, England, and Trinity College, Cambridge, Mr. Johnson was articled to H. Dallas Hellicke, K.C., of the firm of Drake, Jackson & Melcken, while reading for the law. After taking his gown as a barrister and solicitor in 1896, he practised in the Kootenays, through the big mining boom in those days. He soon made a name for himself in practice, and became an acknowledged authority on mining law. Later he returned to the Coast, and for years practised as a partner of the law firm of Macdonald & Johnson, of which Mr. Johnson was a partner.

As Crown counsel in some of the biggest trials in the history of the province, Mr. Johnson added fresh laurels to his already growing list. He was said to be without equal in Canada as Crown counsel in criminal hearings, both on account of his eminent fairness to the accused, and also for his keen analytical mind, that prepared the facts of the most complicated cases in such a manner that, in his presentation to the court, were masterpieces in logical, unbiased summations.

MODEL FOR LAW STUDENTS

Where an accused was defended, Mr. Johnson would never address the court at the end of evidence, but would rather go out of his way to see that every favorable factor in the defence of the prisoner was laid plainly before the court. His great fairness in this respect became a model for all law students, the admiration of the bench and bar alike. His kindly sympathies extended far beyond the confines of his profession, while many a young barrister will remember the help he received with his first brief from one of the most eminent legal lights of his day.

Mr. Johnson acted as Crown counsel in a long series of murder trials at Victoria, when three defendants were charged with the murder of Capt. W. A. P. Gillis and his eighteen-year-old son aboard the gasoline boat Beryl G. It was a complicated case, built up by the Provincial Police from a cold start, in which the abandoned boat was found adrift, with bloodstains on her decks. His presentation of the evidence in that case was typical of fairness in the heat of the most difficult legal battle, and is still remembered by many who witnessed the trial. He acted for the Crown in the Nanaimo Bank robbery case a few years later, and in many noted trials.

Piercy and vitriolic in his opinions of things in life that seemed to him unjust, Mr. Johnson in court was a model of precise, even-tempered pleading, which was ever couched in the most simple and perfect language. He had no airs or graces in court, but the calm, quiet dignity of a man who knew the facts and could present them with penetrating logic and telling effect. He subscribed to the principle in British law that an accused person is innocent until proved otherwise, and neither by word or suggestion allowed infringement of this standard in the smallest degree.

HELD IN HIGH ESTEEM
His opinion was sought and respected by high and low, and his assistance was never withheld in a just cause. It was with something of a great deal more than esteem that Mr. Johnson was held by his colleagues of the bar, affectionate regard tingling all relations with his fellow workers. Little given to self, Mr. Johnson possessed one of the brightest intellects of the day, and the little that he said ever carried weight.

Mr. Johnson was deputy Attorney-General under J. W. de B. Farria, K.C., and served in the same capacity under Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald and A. M. Manson, K.C., prior to the advent of W. D. Carter to the deputyship. Later he became chairman of the three-man liquor board associated with J. H. Falconer and Colonel W. N. Winsay, before Hugh Davidson was made sole commissioner.

Hayward's B.C. Funeral Company is in charge of the funeral arrangements.

TRIBUTE PAID

Premier Tolmie and members of the Cabinet expressed deep regret yesterday at the passing of Mr. Johnson, acknowledging a loss that will be keenly felt in official as well as private circles. Attorney-General Pooley voiced the opinion of the Cabinet when he said:

"The late A. M. Johnson, K.C., was without equal in his knowledge of criminal law in Canada. He had a wonderful grasp of the law, and a magnificent memory, talents he used always with a fairness that became one of his greatest attributes. His passing will be a very great loss to the profession, and will be felt by this department especially."

"Mr. Johnson was looked upon as the most faithful servant of the department, and in his role of Crown counsel was without peer in the country. He was a prosecutor and never a persecutor; fearless in his duties, and with a very keen mind, it is with very keen regret that the Government heard of his death," Mr. Pooley concluded.

PAY TRIBUTE TO POPULAR COACH

Many Victorians Attend Funeral Rites Here for Late Daniel O'Sullivan

Fitting tribute was paid to the valuable services the late Daniel O'Sullivan had rendered to the city and the whole Pacific Coast in his fostering of interest in healthy and manly sport, by the large gathering which attended the funeral services, yesterday morning, in St. Andrew's Cathedral. There was included among the great concourse a large body of members of the premier athletic body of Victoria, the J.B.A.A., of which the deceased was a valued active member.

In addition to those who had known Mr. O'Sullivan as a great coachman and later a most valuable coach for the younger rowers as they followed, generation after generation, the deceased had a very wide circle of friends here. These turned out in large numbers, yesterday, to pay their respects to his memory.

REQUIEM MASS

The impressive Requiem Mass, of the Roman Catholic Church, was sung, with Rev. Father O'Neill conducting the service, in the cathedral, which well-nigh filled the cathedral, were very many old residents of the city, many of whom had been born here and had attended school in Victoria with the deceased.

The funeral left his late residence, 413 Quebec Street, at 4:45 a.m., and proceeded to St. Andrew's Cathedral, where Requiem Mass was sung, commencing at 9 o'clock. Later the funeral procession proceeded to the Ross Bay Cemetery, where interment took place. The pallbearers were Charles Wilson, Alexander McDermott, F. Taylor, F. A. Gowen, A. H. Cox and F. W. Farley.

WAS BURIED YESTERDAY

Yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the funeral of James H. Gradwell took place at the Thompson Funeral Home. Many friends attended the service, which was conducted by Dr. Cien Davies, and the casket was covered with beautiful floral tributes. The following acted as pallbearers: C. Smurthwaite, W. R. Parker, H. Thompson, P. Andrews, R. Burton and Captain R. O. Chadson. Interment was made in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

He subscribed to the principle in British law that an accused person is innocent until proved otherwise, and neither by word or suggestion allowed infringement of this standard in the smallest degree.

MADE LEGAL HISTORY

Quite recently Mr. Johnson made legal history in Canada. His connection with the Work Point arson case, in which a defendant appealed to the Court of Appeal from a conviction returned by a jury on which sat a man formerly convicted of an indictable offence. The Appeal Court quashed the conviction, but Mr. Johnson was sustained in the Supreme Court of Canada on a point that has since been written in legal journals as a new point in criminal procedure.

Beyond reproach in his personal life, Mr. Johnson leaves behind the record of a brilliant man who bore his honors quietly and beloved by all with whom he came in contact. Surviving Mr. Johnson are a widow; three daughters, Mrs. Kathleen Greer, Mrs. Margaret Greer, and Mrs. Jean Greer, living at the family home, 530 Linden Avenue; three sisters, Mrs. Gerald Pike, in England; Mrs. C. E. Sharp, Ontario, and Mrs. R. P. Wilmut, Vancouver, and one grandchild.

VIVISECTION DISCUSSED

Members of Victoria Society Debate Subject—Many Views Are Quoted

An intensely interesting discussion on the subject: "Should a Follower of Jesus Christ Uphold Vivisection?" was held in the Unity Hall Thursday night, by the Victoria branch of the Anti-Vivisection Association.

Those introducing the subjects were G. B. Kitto and H. Eger. The former took the negative and declared that science had exploded the idea that animals were created for the benefit of man, and had shown the complete inter-relationship between man and animal.

He expressed regret that the church had not taken up the subject of vivisection. The speaker could not conceive Jesus Christ taking a scalpel in his hand and vivisectioning an animal.

PROLONGED TORTURE

There was a vast difference between a merciful killing of animals and prolonged torture for a purely problematical good. Human health, he contended, was not better today despite the fact that sanitation had controlled infectious diseases.

"Actually we bring disease upon ourselves, and then vainly seek to escape by torturing animals. This is immoral and un-Christianlike," he said.

UNDER HANDICAP
Mr. Eger presented his argument under somewhat of a handicap, being an ardent anti-vivisectionist. However, he consented to take the affirmative for the purpose of promoting discussion.

He pointed out that the theological standpoint on the Christian faith taught that only by the sacrifice of the Lamb of God was God's anger against man appeased, and that vicarious sacrifice reveals a law of God.

If the Christian believes in vicarious sacrifice, then it would seem right for the scientist, the high priest of medical research, to demand the right to sacrifice animals in the hope of bringing benefits to mankind.

Pain, he contended, was unavoidable. One could only mitigate it. The early church had practiced spiritual healing, but had by common consent, passed this matter on to doctors.

QUOTE LEADERS

Proceeding this discussion, views of eminent leaders of the anti-vivisection movement in England sixty years ago were expressed. Miss Frances Power Cobbe was quoted by Mrs. Roseboom; Cardinal Manning and Cobbe were quoted by J. Pudney and H. Hol-lins. Lord Shaftesbury was quoted by T. H. Laundry and Lord Chief Justice Coleridge by Mr. Kitto.

Mr. Kitto played several delightful piano solos, and Captain A. Laybourn sang several numbers, accompanied by H. Hollins. Miss N. K. Wyles presided.

RUSSIA'S REFUSAL

Russia has an export surplus of wheat mainly made possible by restricting the quota devoted for her own regimented population. She wants to be unfettered in export, simply because she needs money. Hence she will not become a party to the world wheat agreement. Her estimate is that she will have 75,000,000 bushels to export, whereas under the wheat agreement between other countries only half that amount was allocated to the Soviet Union. Russia's wheat is produced at lower cost than in the case of any other country because now there is control and the Russian peasant live on state farms, and their grain, to all intents and purposes, is commandeered. The attitude of Russia towards the wheat agreement may conceivably have the effect of rendering that pact nugatory.

It is not clear that any agreement with the Soviet Union regarding wheat export would be observed. It is possibly a waste of time negotiating, and in any case no agreement could be made regarding price. There is very little of the spirit of co-operation evidenced in Moscow. The junta in power there views any economic situation
from the standpoint of communistic principles, irrespective of any law of supply and demand.
This means that world co-operation, where Russia's aid has to be sought, is somewhat futile.
That country has little concern for the sanctity of any international law that may be devised.

A SOCIALIST STATE

Mr. A. J. Morley, in a letter to The Colonist, asks very pertinent questions about the policies of the Canadian Commonwealth. Federated party. He wants to know what is the definite platform in toto; the practical plans for giving effect to it; who would head the C.C.F. government in this province; have the leaders the experience and capacity to inspire confidence; why Communism is supporting the C.C.F.; what is to prevent wealth and industries transferring to other countries before the C.C.F. could function; what would then take the place of depleted taxation;
etc.

The answer to the bulk of Mr. Morley's questions will, of course, be that the C.C.F. is frankly socialistic; that it intends to carry on by taking over all the resources of the people and administering them through the agency of whatever political party may be in power. There has been a discussion going on in Britain on the subject of socialism as applied to government. The exponents of the socialistic theory are Sir Stafford Cripps, Mr. G. D. H. Cole and Mr. E. F. Wise and from these gentlemen have emanated proposals which one writer, Mr. W. W. Paine, says could only come from warped minds, and which, moreover, "show an almost complete ignorance of the conditions under which modern business, both home, colonial and foreign, is carried on. These proposals are so utterly fantastic and impracticable that the question of whether they are to be brought into effect by dictatorial methods or through the use of Parliamentary forms becomes of minor importance."

No socialistic orator has yet been able to show,
even in the slightest degree, that the existence of the capitalist system, as it is described, has been responsible for present-day evils. The bald statement is made that it is; no evidence is adduced. Socialists never pay the slightest tribute to the fact that the whole progress of the world from the primitive state of village communities to modern civilization has been achieved under the system which they denounce.
In other words, there is no sporting realization and commendation of facts in their lexicon. It was the system of capitalism which righted what Lord Macaulay described as, "the days of 1865 as times when noblemen were destitute of comfort, the want of which would be intolerable to a modern footman; when farmers and shopkeepers breakfasted on leaves the very sight of which would raise a riot in a modern workhouse; when men died fast in the pure country air than they now die in the most pestilential lanes of our towns."

No workingman in Canada who has the slightest knowledge of conditions would willingly exchange his position for that of a workingman in Russia. That, however, is the prospect held out by the C.C.F. It is axiomatic that the conditions of the working people could not be improved by any communal system of ownership of the means of production, distribution and exchange. Unemployment has nothing whatever to do with the capitalist system. It is due to the state of foreign trade. It has nothing to do with improvements in machinery. It is something to do with the fact that infinitely more women have come into the labor market than was the case thirty years ago. Other factors in creating unemployment, with which no scheme of socialism could contend, are: (1) the enormous wastage of capital which the war entailed; (2)
the barriers against international trade which have been set up by almost every country in the world; (3) the complete cessation of immigration. Not one of these causes could be removed, not one of the conditions could be improved, by the elimination of private enterprise and the establishment of Government ownership and control of industry.

The growth of movements like the C.C.F. is largely due to lack of adequate education on economic problems; due also to the fervid desire for power on the part of revolutionaries who seize upon a besotted outlook to further their political aims. Socialism is continuously on the alert for ways to capitalize a jangled mentality. That is a form of capitalism to which it does not object, although one infinitely more dangerous to the welfare of the race than any so-called system which has been the product of evolution throughout the centuries. As Mr. Paine, the writer already quoted, says, the ordinary voter must be shown in detail how wealth and trade, upon which he is dependent, have been built up by private enterprise and can only be maintained under that system. Mere generalities, however, will not do. It can readily be admitted that a capitalist system, like any other, is open to abuse. "But," says Mr. Paine, "it can be conclusively shown that under that same system most of those abuses have in the past fifty years been removed, and that, in spite of the difficult times through which we have been passing since and in consequence of the war and apart from the grave question of unemployment with which the capitalist system has nothing whatever to do, he (the worker), is now enjoying a standard of living (in Britain), which is the envy of his fellow throughout the world. The establishment of Government control and ownership of the means of production, distribution and exchange would be the death blow to any hope of improvement, and even to the continuance of that standard."

A LOSS TO THE BAR

The death of Mr. A. M. Johnson, well-known lawyer, and so often Crown prosecutor in court cases in this province, will come as a shock to the entire legal fraternity. His career in British Columbia was one of which his family and his friends and the people as a whole may be justifi-ably proud. Many years ago he already earned reputation of administrative as well as legal ability, and it was logical that under the late Liberal Government he should have been chosen as Deputy Attorney-General, an office which he filled with distinction. From that post he was taken to become chairman of the Liquor Control Board, and in this position much of the onus of establishing the new liquor laws in the province fell on his shoulders. Those shoulders, however, were broad and capable and the task was well accomplished.

In latter years Mr. Johnson had confined his attention to the law and had figured in many celebrated cases in the province on the side of the Crown. He was always eminently fair in his prosecutions. He believed in having both sides heard to the full and his weighing of evidence in his summing up was always judicial and without prejudice. In his own presentations of his case he was logical and incisive. He had the faculty of going to the heart of any matter, of seeing the highlights of any evidence and making them tell with a jury. His death is a heavy loss to the Bar, and will be equally regretted by the Bench, and indeed by all who knew his outstanding capability and the services in one way or another he had rendered to British Columbia. Very deep sympathy will go out to his widow and daughters and other relatives.

MAJOR W. C. ANGUS

The late Major W. C. Angus had not been for long a resident of this city, but during the brief period he was here he had won golden opinions for a most likeable personality and a public-spiritedness that was an asset to the community. Popular with all who knew him, a man of broad views and intense interest in those affairs which counted in civic development, he speedily earned here, as he had elsewhere, the respect and admiration of his fellow citizens. In so many other places in the province where he had worked, a reputation for fair dealing, for convincing methods in his approach towards his fellows and for a bonhomie that showed how he thoroughly enjoyed life. That one of his character should be struck down at such an early age is a blow to the community.

As a soldier Major Angus won recognition time and again for those qualities of commanding respect which enhanced his reputation as well in civil life. After the war his interest in the returned men never waned and he was successful in accomplishing much, as he had already, in addition to his so many other estimable qualities, Major Angus was an enthusiastic sportsman and carried out the definition of that word in its best acceptance. The sporting life of the community has lost the keenest of friends in his passing, as has our civil life as a whole. Deepest sympathy will go out from all who knew him to his widow and daughter and other relatives who survive.

THE BRITISH WAY

The British way in times of depression has always been to plod on without recourse to revolutions or economic stunts; to work a little harder and a little more efficiently than the opposition, and turn out a better article; to spend a little less, save a little more and pay debts. It has been the only sure recipe for industrial recoveries in the past, and humanity is the same now as it always was—Sydney Bulletin.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.
Because the good old rule
Suffices them, the simple plan
That they should do the work
And they should keep who can.
—Wordsworth

One of the outstanding characteristics of the present age, or perhaps it would be more correct to write of the present time, is the susceptibility of the people to the influences of waves of hysteria. There have been periods of religious hysteria, which if they have not done a great deal of good, have done very little harm. Just now the people of Western Canada are in the throes of a spasm of political hysteria. The difference between religious hysteria and political hysteria is that while one may not do much good the other may do a great deal of harm.

Three years ago there was a spasm of political hysteria in Great Britain. A Socialist Government was elected to power there, and the consequence was that the country was speedily hovering on the brink of a chasm which portended ruin.
But the people recovered their mental balance in time, the Socialist revolutionaries were dispersed, the country has made a remarkable recovery, and is now one of the most prosperous places in the world.

About the same time the Commonwealth of Australia was afflicted with a spasm of political dementia.
A Socialist Government was chosen to rule the land. Everybody was to be made wealthy and happy by the wave of some magic wand, but one morning the people woke up and found out that they had been living in an atmosphere of dreams and were facing realities. The reality was that industries were paralyzed, Common sense prevailed over the dreams of utopia, the Australian Socialist Government was driven from power and the forces of the revolutionaries scattered beyond hope of reorganization.

No doubt there were well intentioned men in both the British and the Australian Socialist Governments. There can be no doubt at least about the nature of the intentions of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, possibly not about the nature of the intentions of Lord Ickornshaw (who was Mr. Philip Snowden), or of the intentions of other members of the Government of dreamers. But Mr. MacDonald was open to conviction. He perceived that his natural common sense had been swallowed up by his emotions, and recanted in time to become the Prime Minister in a Government ruled by common sense, a composite Government whose composition is largely Conservative.

The cases of Great Britain and Australia are apt and convincing examples of the dangers of hysteria in politics. There are other cases.
There is the case of Italy, which was saved from the dangers of political hysteria by the prompt action of Mussolini. It may be argued that in the case of Italy it was a wave of emotional Communism that endangered the country;
but if there be any difference between Socialism and Communism it is merely a difference in degree, and that infinitesimal degree of difference is not very apparent in the speeches and writings of the visionaries of the C.C.F. in Canada. We take it that if an agitator in the ranks of any movement demands that there shall be a complete division of property and money amongst members of the community, that is Communism.

However, we do not share the apprehensions of a considerable number of persons that the C.C.F.
hysteria are dangerous; they appear to us to be more interesting and amusing than anything else.
The dreams of those who dwell in a fairytale, whether political or religious, are sometimes somewhat fantastic, but because they are impossible of realization, like the dreams of imaginative children, they are beautiful. The Canadian hysteria is not like the wave of political fanaticism which is sweeping over Germany and is alarming
many of the statesmen of Europe.

The German people, notwithstanding their philosophy and what they call their Kultur, are essentially childlike in mentality. They love the sound of the rolling drum,
the crash of artillery, the clatter of arms and the spectacle of marching men. Their temperament cannot be adjusted to either Democratic or Socialist institutions. They are still deluded in mind by visions of Imperialism and world dominance.
With them it is the state over all.
If they are selfish in their desires,
their selfishness is not personal; it is national.

That is the difference between the hysteria of our C.C.F. and the dreamers of Germany. The motives of our revolutionaries are not hidden. Even the most moderate of the C.C.F. leaders are perfectly frank in stating what they want.
The banks are their first objective.
They assume that there is plenty of money in the banks for the taking.

The racketeers of the United States want the same thing, and take what they want in the only way it can be taken. In this country the agitators purpose making their objects lawful by sweeping from the statute books all laws respecting the rights of property.

Langford Resident Passes in Hospital

Mrs. Margaret Brotherton, aged fifty-one years, passed away, yesterday in the Jubilee Hospital. She was born in Berwickshire, Scotland, and had resided in British Columbia for the past ten years, her late residence being Langford.
There survives besides her husband, seven children: Thelma, Theresa, George, Robert, Margaret,
Daisy and Donald, also six brothers,
Thomas and Robert Young, of Vancouver, three in Scotland and one in New Zealand.

Her remains are resting at the Sands Mortuary and announcement of the funeral will be made later.

PLEASED WITH LAND REVISION

Mayor Gratified With Work Carried Out by Assessor's Department

Mayor David Leeming expressed satisfaction with the 1934 assessment roll filed yesterday for the Court of Revision by George Okell, city assessor.

"Land values needed adjusting,
and I am satisfied that the assessor appreciated this fact when making his revisions," the Mayor said.

WORK CAPABLY HANDLED

He added that two years ago he had pointed out the need for a revaluation of city property, and was glad to see that the work had been handled so capably.
It is interesting to note that in connection with the reassessment of Victoria, the census of pedestrian traffic in the downtown area was taken into consideration. This figure of property values was instituted by Mr. Okell and Victoria, it is believed, was the first city in Canada to adopt this method. It has proved of outstanding value in reaching a basis of values for business properties.

COURT OF REVISION

The court of revision will convene at 10 a.m. Monday in the court chamber when forty-five assessors appears against the assessments as made. This is the smallest number that has been received for many years. The assessors will be the clerks of the assessor's department, city aldermen stated.

Members of the court of revision
are Mayor Leeming, Regent, Aldermen Alex Ferguson, W. D. Todd,
Andrew McOvlin and John Worthington.

"Waltz Time in Vienna" Stars Evelyn Laye, Noted English Singer—Strong Cast

Evelyn Laye, loveliest of screen stars, is singing the unforgettable waltzes of Johann Strauss with the luring voice of an English nightingale in "Waltz Time in Vienna," opening at the Capitol Theatre today.

Miss Laye's fascinating personality and wonderful voice are responsible for some of the finest musical sequences that have ever been filmed.

The role of Rosalinde in "Waltz Time" fits her like a glove. She is a comedienne of immediate and potent appeal, and moreover she is a singer with a beautiful voice under perfect control. The Strauss airs are admirably suited to her range and she sings as very few artists have ever sung in a film. Miss Laye, whose personal beauty is enhanced by dresses of the period, is a sight to cheer up the most determined and bitter pessimist. Patrons simply cannot be dull or depressed so long as this lovely actress is on the screen and singing before them. She has done nothing better, and she sets a standard it will not be easy for any of her contemporary artists to excel. "Waltz Time" is a glorious musical romance of gay Vienna and should enchant Victoria audiences.

WINDSTORM DOES VARYING DAMAGE

Orchards Suffer Heavily in Lady-smith District—Windows and Fences Smashed

LADYSMITH, Sept. 29.—All points in this area report varying damage on the heels of the fierce gale that swept from the southwest during the morning hours of Thursday.

Orchardists suffered especially heavy losses in the late and winter varieties of apples and pears, and in plums and prunes. In some instances local orchards were swept practically bare to the branches.

The Island Highway was strewn with a litter of limbs from roadside trees, while some of the alder groves were flattened out like wheat after a heavy hailstorm.

Stage services were disrupted temporarily a few miles south of Ladysmith, when a large fir tree fell across the highway, completely blocking traffic and smashing through the telephone lines.

No injuries are reported, although there were many narrow escapes. Many windows were blown in by the terrific wind, fences were thrown down, and shingles were scattered afar.

A section of Chemenalus was without electric power for several hours when some of the circuits were blown down. The power was restored on the waterfront to small craft, as the bluff overlooking Ladysmith harbor served as an effective shelter.

NEW PUBLISHING HOUSE IS BUILT

Christian Science Monitor Building Is Constructed at Cost of Four Million Dollars

Nearly six hundred persons attended a showing of motion pictures of the construction of the new Christian Science Monitor Publishing House, in Boston, at the First Church of Christ Scientist, here last night.

The progress of this vast undertaking was followed step by step by the motion pictures, five reels being shown in all. The early development of the publishing department, and its expansion to several additional buildings were depicted.

Then the colossal task of wrecking forty-seven apartment houses, numerous business blocks and other structures in the vicinity of the mother church was shown.

BEAUTIFUL EDIFICE

On the ground once occupied by these buildings was erected a beautiful edifice covering two acres of land, and having seven acres of floor space.

How two huge girders were lifted into place; the hoisting of twenty-seven ton sandstone pillars and other construction feats were flashed onto the screen.

The new publishing house was built at a cost of $4,000,000 and stands as a monument to the last quality of the precept that the church and its many publications set and teach.

Annual Meeting of Workroom to Hear Statements

The annual meeting of the Women's Workroom will take place on Thursday, October 5, at 8 p.m., in the I.O.D.E. rooms, Union Building.

Of special interest will be the report of the appeal campaign recently launched for the purpose of securing pledges to carry the workroom on for the next seven months. The requisite funds have not yet been secured, but many friends have been very generous in guaranteeing monthly donations toward the objective.

Miss M. Wigley will read the financial statement; Mrs. Herman Roberts will give the report of the entertainment committee; Mrs. G. A. Wayne will read the employment committee's report; Miss Fitzgibbon, the registration committee's, and Mrs. Pease, the supervisor of the workroom, will also give a statement. In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. W. Gibson, vice-president, will preside.

FASCISM DECEIVED BY NATIVE SONS

Local Organisation Deceives Extremist Movement—Detrimental to Canada

Local members of the Native Sons of Canada have shown interest in the news report that a group of citizens of Windsor, Ontario, calling themselves Sons of Canada, have organized for the purpose of combating the efforts to introduce Fascism into Canada.

The Victoria members of the Canadian Society state that the Native Sons of Canada are opposed to Fascism and its opposite extreme, Communism. They believe Canadians should not be misled by the radical doctrine of either party, and, although in sympathy with the idea behind the Windsor group, they maintain the name the Ontario Canadians have chosen is an infringement on theirs.

At a meeting of the executive of the Victoria Assembly, Native Sons of Canada, held Thursday evening in Hall's Hall, a protesting resolution was forwarded to the National Council office, Toronto, and a request that the name of the group be advised of the name appropriated by the Windsor organization.

WILL COMPILE OFFICIAL LIST

Candidates Are Warned to Observe Care in Preparing Papers

Names of all candidates in the coming Provincial election will be wired by returning officers to the deputy provincial secretary, after the close of official nominations at 1 p.m., on October 12. Upwards of 200 candidates are anticipated.

Concerned with the difficulty some candidates are experiencing in regard to the completion of their papers, Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary, yesterday issued a prepared statement, pointing out that data on nomination papers for candidates, proposers, seconders and assenters, must compare with names and addresses, etc., on registered voters' lists. The statement follows:

MUST COPY LIST

"Candidates must not lose sight of the fact that under an amendment to the Provincial Elections Act, the full Christian names and surnames of the proposer and seconder whose names appear upon the nomination paper, and also of each of the other registered voters who assent to the nomination, must be stated in the nomination paper, together with their respective addresses and occupations, as shown in the list of voters. The proposer and seconder, together with the assenters must, therefore, give this information exactly as it appears upon the current voters' list."

Electoral law is so full of pitfalls for the unwary that only a few experts in the Provincial service have mastered it in detail. Even Cabinet Ministers have been known to overlook minor, but nevertheless, essential details.

Pioneer Days Are Recalled By Historian

The part played by the early navigators and pioneers in laying the foundations of the province was related in most interesting and entertaining vein by Mr. John Hoole, provincial archivist and librarian, during his address at St. Mary's Hall, Oak Bay, given under the auspices of H.M.S. Resolution Chapter, I.O.D.E.

Mr. Hoole traced Drake's course up the Pacific and showed a number of old maps of that time. Among the most interesting was the Mortier map, which is the only one in existence. He spoke of the diaries of the early explorers which are contained in the archives of the Parliament Buildings.

EARLY SETTLERS

The early Spanish settlement of Nootka, the overland journey of Sir Alexander Mackenzie in 1783, the strange history of Thomas Muir, one of the early Scottish martyrs; David Douglas, after whom the Douglas fir was named; Simon Fraser, and a host of others whose names live in the history of British Columbia were referred to by the speaker.

Mr. Hoole traced the course of the miners who journeyed over the old Cariboo trail to the Interior, and touched upon the fact that the old trading posts were once more becoming the centre of interest, due to the renewed activity in mining. He also paid a tribute to the late Mr. Charles McMeekin, a brother-in-law of Mrs. R. B. McMeekin, of Victoria, and who will be remembered as one of the empire builders.

TRIBUTE TO WOMEN

Before closing Mr. Hoole referred in glowing terms to the pioneer women of the province, among whom was Mrs. John Muir, of Sooke. On behalf of the chapter, Mrs. Clifford Collison, the regent, welcomed Mr. Hoole, and the secretary, Miss Marjorie Holmes, moved a hearty vote of appreciation for the illuminating address.

Miss Holmes later entertained the executive of the chapter, Mr. Hoole, Miss Hoole, Mrs. J. H. Gillespie and Mrs. Genge at supper at her home on Falkland Road.

Chrysanthemums To Be Displayed At Society Show

The annual chrysanthemum show of the Victoria Horticultural Society will be held next Saturday in the old T. N. Hibben & Company store on Government Street.

Classes have been arranged for all the flowers in season. In addition to chrysanthemums, Michaelmas daisies, dahlias and late flowering gladioli will be shown, with a particular section set aside for basket displays.

Further information and prize lists can be had from the secretary, F. E. Boulter, 538 Obed Avenue; phone E 8490.

Reception Planned By Club Members

The British Public Schools Club will hold a reception for the relatives and friends of members, on Saturday afternoon, October 14, to open its social activities for the season.

On the following Friday, October 20, a dance will be given by the club at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. This will be the first of a series of dances to be held throughout the winter. On each occasion, to prevent overcrowding, the issue of tickets will be limited. Tickets may be obtained from the secretary, telephone E 6242, or from any of the following: Mrs. F. Saxton-White, E 2097; Miss E. Everall, G 7945 or Mrs. W. T. McCrum, G 3784.

"But why are you so angry with the doctor, Mrs. Blank?"

"I told him I was tired, and he asked to see my tongue."

Ask any man of 50

ANY middle-aged man will tell you how swiftly the years pass after forty. All too soon middle years have gone the way of youthful ones—and with them middle age's opportunities. Old age approaches. Too late then to start plans for an income for declining years—those years when earning power is greatly reduced, or even gone.

A Manufacturers Life Endowment Policy providing a secure income at age 55 or 60 or later, is within the means of the young man of even moderate income.

Professor G. G. Sedgewick, Ph.D., will speak on "The Poetry of Tension" at the first meeting.

Final arrangements remain to be made for the first meeting in the new year. It is hoped to secure Professor F. G. C. Wood on January 11 with a lecture on the Impressionism gained on a trip to Europe during the past summer. Following this, Professor F. H. Soward will speak on that date on "Hitler's Germany."

All the lectures this season will be delivered in Victoria College, and prospective members may secure membership cards at the Public Library, or at the college prior to any of the meetings.

THE PROGRAMME

rus, B.C.L., "The Banff Conference on Pacific Relations."

November 23—Professor W. A. Carrothers, Ph.D., "The World Economic Conference."

December 7—Professor C. W. Topping, Ph.D., "The Social Engineer in the Community."

March 1—Professor A. C. Cook, M.A., "Exploitation or Trusteeship: The Black Man's Burden in British Tropical Africa."

March 15—Professor F. H. Soward, B.Litt., "The International Situation."

A man, while walking near a river, accidentally slipped in. Two youngsters, who were in the vicinity, seeing the poor fellow's dangerous predicament, rushed off to a neighboring house and procured a rope, and rescued him from a perilous position.

Had it not been for their smartness the man must have been drowned, and their prompt action was deservedly praised.

Being spoken to on the subject, the rescued man objected to so much praise being given to one side—objected very forcibly, in loud tones.

"Don't keep telling me about those youngsters," he said. "If I hadn't fallen in, they would never have been heard of."

WHEN WORLDS COLLIDE

By EDWIN BALMER and PHILIP WILKIE

CHAPTER XXIV

Tony's machine gun was overheating. A little light came from somewhere; Tony could not see what it was, except that it flickered. Something was burning. Tony could see figures at the wire barrier now. He could not reckon their numbers—did not try to. He tried only to shoot them down. Once through the wire—that wire so weak that he could not see it—and that thousand with the thousands behind them, would be over him and the men beside him, they would be over the line of older men behind; then they would reach the women.

Tony's lips receded from his teeth. He aimed the gun with diabolic care, and watched it take effect as wind affects standing wheat. The attackers broke, and ran back to the woods.

Men went in pairs to the tops of the buildings, and through loopholes began sniping at those who moved in the territory around the buildings.

Every one was "overmastered" by the same sort of rage which had possessed Tony. The reason for their existence had been to them a high and holy purpose. They defended it with the fanaticism of sects. They could not know that the flight of their plane to the Ransell metal-shed had indicated to the frantic hordes that somewhere human beings lived in discipline and decency. They could not know how, for weeks, they had been apied upon by ravenous eyes.

They could not know that nearly ten thousand men, hungry, desperate, most of them already murderers many times over, armed, supplied with crafty plans which had been formulated by disordered heads once devoted to important, intelligent pursuits—how these besieged them now, partly for spoils, but to a greater degree in a fury of lust and envy. They had traveled on broken roads, growing as they marched. It was a heathen horde, a barbaric and ruthless horde.

The siege relaxed to an intermittent exchange of volleys. At his machine-gun station, Tony, suffering acutely from thirst, with six of his comrades lying dead near by, fought intermittently.

Reinforcements came from the centre of the camp—Jack Taylor and two more of the younger men.

"Hurt, Tony?" Taylor challenged him.

"No," replied Tony. "Who's killed in the buildings?"

"Not Hendron," said Taylor, "or Eve—though she was one of the girls that went out to attend to the wounded. Two of the girls were hit."

"Hendron wants to see you, Tony. At the ship. 'I'll take over here for you. Good luck!'"

Tony found Hendron inside the Space Station, and there, since its metal made an armor for it, a light was burning. Hendron sat at a table; it was now his headquarters.

"You're hurt," said Tony.

"Too many," Hendron dismissed this. "What do they think they are doing?" he challenged Tony abruptly.

"Getting ready to come again," Tony returned.

"Tonight, probably?"

"Tony glanced at his wrist watch; it was 11 o'clock. 'Midnight would be my guess, sir,' he said.

"Will they get in next time?" Hendron demanded.

"Then can . . . if they come in more resolutely. They can do more than they have done."

"Whereas we," Hendron looked up for him, "can scarcely do more."

"Yes, sir," said Tony. "We used all the defenses we had; and they could have carried us an hour ago, if they'd come on."

"Exactly," nodded Hendron. "And now we are fewer. We will be fewer still, of course, after the next attack, and fewer yet, after they get in."

"However," observed Hendron thoughtfully, "that will be, in one way, an advantage."

Tony was used, by now, to be astonished by Hendron; yet he said, "I don't follow you, sir."

"We will defend the enclosure as long as we can, Tony," Hendron said. "But when they are in—if they get in, they will have to fight their way out. They must be delayed as long as they can be; but when they are in, we gather—all of us that are left, Tony—here."

"Inside this ship. Hadn't that occurred to you, Tony? Don't you see?"

Tony stared at his chief, and straightened the blood of hope racing again hot within. "Of course I see," he almost shouted. "Of course I see!"

"Very well. Then issue cloths—white cloths, Tony; distribute them for arms and in the dark, we will know our own."

"Yes, sir. But, Eve is safe?"

"She is not hurt, I hear. You might see her for an instant. The women are tearing up bandages."

Tony found her in a room with twenty others, tearing white cloth into strips. At least he had one word with her.

"Tony! Take care of yourself!"

"How about you, Eve?"

"She disregarded this, said only: 'Get back to the ship, Tony, after the fight. Oh, get back to the ship!'"

He went out again. A bullet pinged on the wall behind him. The burst of machine-gun fire sounded uglier; there were groans again, and screams. With his burden of machine-gun cartridges, he returned to the post he had fought.

"That you, Tony?" Jack Taylor hailed. "Cartridges? Great! We'll scrap brought with him. Hell! Just in time, I'd say . . . Here they come!"

"Listen!" yelled Tony. "If they get in, delay them, don't mix with them; each man tie a white cloth on his sleeve—and retreat to the ship! And be issued the strips he brought with him. Hell! Just in time, I'd say . . . Here they come!"

From the buildings, reinforcements arrived—six men with guns along over their shoulders, and bayonets that caught a glint from the firing. They carried another machine-gun.

One of the new men produced a very pistol. His private property, he explained, which he had brought along "for emergencies."

"It's one now," Tony said simply, and took the pistol from him. He fired it, and the Very light, hanging in the air, revealed men at the wire everywhere. A thousand men—two thousand; no sense even in estimating them.

Tony again claimed the machine-gun. He made a flat fan of the flashes before him, as he swung the gun back and forth. He was killing men by scores, he knew; but he knew, also, that if the hundreds had the nerve to stick, they were "in."

They were in!

"Fall back! Fall back to the ship—fighting!" Tony yelled again and again. He did not need to tell his men to fight. The trouble was they still wanted to fight, holding on here.

The few obeyed him. The rest could not, he suddenly realized; and he had to leave them, dying. Jack Taylor was beside him, firing a rifle. They were five altogether who were falling back, firing.

Figures from the black leaped at them, and it was hand to hand. Tony fought with a bayonet, then with a clubbed rifle, madly and wildly swinging. He was struck, and reeled.

"Come on!" cried Jack Taylor's voice; and with Taylor, he ran in the dark. They reached the buildings. Gunfire was flashing from the laboratories which were otherwise dark. The dormitories sprang into light; windows shone, and spread illumination which showed that they were deserted and were being used, now, by the defenders of the camp to light the space already abandoned.

They were doing this; but it delayed them. It held them up a few minutes. Room by room, dormitory windows went black. The lights were not being turned out; they were being smashed and the window panes were crashing. Yells celebrated the smashing, and shots.

The yells ceased; some sort of assault was being reorganized.

Tony moved in the dark. "Keep down—keep down—down," he was crying. "Below the window line. Down!"

For bullets from machine-guns, evidently aimed from the dormitory windows, were striking in.

Many did not obey him; he did not expect them to. Yells at the farther end of the main laboratory told that it was hand-to-hand there. In the dark, a charge—a rush had been pushed home.

Tony found Taylor beside him; they had stuck together in the dark; and a dozen others rose and ran with them into the messes. The best brains of the modern world, fighting hand to hand with savages! Shoot and stab and club, wildly, desperately, in the dark!

More and more lay where they fell. Tony, stumbling and slipping on the sticky wet floor, realized that this rule must be stopped. There was nobody left in the room to fight—nobody but two or three distinguished as friends by the spots of the arm bands.

"Jack?" gasped Tony; and Taylor's voice answered him. They were staggering and bleeding, both of them; but they had survived the fight together. Tony found the flashlight which, all through the fight, he had had in his pocket, and he bent to the floor and held it close to the faces.

He caught breath, bitterly. Bronson was there. Bronson, the discoverer of the two stranger planets, whose passing had loosed this savagery. Dr. Sven Bronson, the first scientist of the Southern Hemisphere.

RATE REVISION BEING SOUGHT

Residents of Sooke Want Flat Rate Substituted for City Scale—Present Petition

Residents of Sooke, yesterday, petitioned the city water commissioner,

O. M. Irwin, for a revision in the existing rates charged in that district.

L. Rykes and A. J. Syrett presented the petition to Mr. Irwin and explained that Sooke residents wanted to be charged in the same manner as Victoria, a minimum service charge plus consumption. They were willing to have metres installed for this purpose, they said. At present a flat rate of $2 a month, and $1 every three months as an irrigation rate, is being charged.

Mr. Irwin listened to their arguments and said he would take it up with the water committee at the first opportunity.

What Today Means

"LINRA"
If September 30 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8 to 9 a.m., and 11 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 4:45 to 6 p.m.

The danger periods are from 1 to 2:30 p.m., and from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Influences operating on this date will be of a satisfying nature; people generally will be more easily pleased than is usually the case. Less criticism, less gossip and more friendliness will be apparent. The sales or promotional letter written and directed forward on this day will quite probably bring gratifying results. Dentists should work with greater precision and cause less pain than ordinarily.

30 will probably start life with an abundance of good things within his grasp. Many fine qualities of character, good health and an attractive personality will prove weapons that will enable him to fight his way to the pinnacle of success. His triumphs should begin early and he should continue for a long time. He will rise on his own merits, not by downing others.

If September 30 is the date of your birth, you are probably much more of a mental being than you are a physical one. Unless you are careful your development will not be well rounded, and you will thus place a limit on your attainments. Take advantage of the good things that have been given to you; a personality that draws people to you, a mind that is quick to solve problems of almost any nature, a willingness to work hard, the gift of speech, these and others you must put to work along right lines, and your success will be assured. Do not shy from physical exertion or from work or exercise in the outdoors as is your wont. Remember that a sound mind must be encased in a sound body.

Born on September 30, you will be always able to turn your ideas into ready money. Whether you be mechanically inclined, have the propensity for acting, the ability to teach or the "gift of gab, or of writing, you will go about your work in an original and refreshing manner, and you will score in a big way. Adversity may come your way, and like all people you will suffer setbacks, but you will not stay down for long. You are rather a sentimental person and you cling to objects of personal adornment and other things that have memories attached to them. The memory of your parents will long linger in your mind and will guide you over many a rough spot.

Pupil: "Four hours."

Even Final Series of Season With Former Champs—Braves Creep Up

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP).—Washington's champion Senators gave another convincing display of power today, as they defeated New York Yankees, 8-5, to even the series with their first victory since they clinched the American League pennant last week.

With the Giants again in the stands to get a line on their world series rivals, the Senators jumped on Charley (Red) Ruffing to score five runs in the fourth inning with the aid of a couple of walks and a costly error by Eddie Farrell.

Then after their southpaw ace had weakened enough to give the Yankees four in the fifth, they came back with another scoring burst to pull the game away.

Heinie Manush delivered the final decisive blow for Washington when he drove out a home run in the seventh inning after Goose Goslin had doubled.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
BROOKLYN, N.Y., Sept. 29 (AP).—Boston Braves, striving for a place in the National League's first Division and a share in the world series receipts, cut the margin of the fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals to a half-game today as they defeated Brooklyn, 4-1, in the replay of yesterday's tie game. The Braves and the Cards each have two games to play.

Timely hitting, along with Brooklyn errors, made the victory as easy for the Braves.

VINES NOT MISQUOTED BY WRITER

U.S. Davis Cup Player Amplifies Instead of Repudiating Remarks

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (CP).—The attempt of Ellsworth Vines, former United States tennis champion, to repudiate his criticism of American Davis Cup strategy and management this year, has been investigated by The Associated Press, with the following results:
(1) Vines, instead of repudiating remarks made at Newport earlier in the summer, repeated and amplified them, when he talked with sports writers on his return to Los Angeles.

(2) The former champion's categorical denial of criticism of Davis Cup methods, made in a telegram to Vernon Prentice, of New York, captain of the American team, was palmed after consultation with Perry Jones, secretary of the California Tennis Association.

REMARKS CONFIRMED
(3) The subject matter of Vines' remarks, criticizing the psychology of "fight talks" given the players before the Davis Cup matches abroad, and urging a more internationalist be put in charge of the next American team, was based on an interview written for the Boston Transcript by its sports editor, George Caran.

"Vines absolutely was not misquoted," Caran said.

In the opening major game of the 1933 football season, the University of California met its transbay rival, Santa Clara, on the big oval at Berkeley, Cal. Coach "Navy Bill" Ingram's hopes of an undefeated season were shattered as the Broncos smashed through for the lone touchdown. Frank Sobrero, Santa Clara left halfback, is pictured as he plunged through the line for the winning touchdown. Reile, California backfield man (No. 65) is in the foreground. The ball can be seen tucked tightly under Sobrero's right arm. A portion of the enormous outpouring of fans can be seen in the foreground.

DOUBLE-HEADER TO FEATURE OPENING AT ATHLETIC PARK

Esquimalt, Last Year's Champions, to Meet Victoria City at 2:30 o'clock—Saanich Thistles and Victoria West to Follow—Many New Players Will Appear in Action

Football eleven in the Victoria and District Division of the Pacific Coast League will make their official bow to the public this afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park when the four clubs will be seen in action in a doubleheader. In the curtain raiser, Esquimalt will meet Victoria City at 2:30 o'clock, while Victoria West and Saanich Thistles will clash immediately following. The teams will play forty minutes each way. In addition, an exhibition game will take place between Esquimalt and Victoria West Second Division clubs, at Heywood Avenue, at 5 o'clock. Last week the clubs appeared in exhibition games, the Thistles winning from Esquimalt on the new Buller Park grounds, 1-0, while Victoria West noted out Victoria City, 3-2. The teams played comparatively good ball considering it was their first appearance of the year. All squads will be at top strength and two closely fought matches should be presented to the fans.

DE COSTA BACK
Esquimalt's winning aggregation of last year has several new faces, including some of last season's Second Division and junior players. Louis De Costa will be back between the sticks after passing up last week's game because of hand injury. Majority of the team will be the old standbys of the past few seasons, including the Watt brothers, Joe and John; Sweeney, "Scotty" Stewart and Wagland. The dockers' opponents, Victoria City, will have their best club on the field and hope to give Esquimalt a battle from start to finish.

Saanich Thistles are marching out a formidable eleven against Victoria West in the second match. Wally Howe, who tended goal for the greenhorns at the end of last season, will be seen in Saanich's net, while Freddy Gibbons, former Victoria City star, are the two new members of the suburban squad. The rest of the team played last season under the Thistles' colors and are well known to the fans.

New material will feature Victoria West's line-up. Stewardson, Second Division player a year ago, will guard the rigging, while Storey and Roy Barnes are two other new members of the team.

Victoria West, Second Division—Price, Williams, G. Jack, Geoghegan, Tuttle, Thompson, Fuller, Lumble, D. Jack, D. Purns, Patterson and A. Purns.

Esquimalt, First Division—L. De Costa, Joe Watt, March, Hicks, Sweeney, Williams, A. Stewart, John Watt, Miller, Wagland, Worswick, Mothshaw and R. Stewart.

Esquimalt, Second Division—Christy, Rowlands, Coates, Alexander, Barker, Watt, Hall, Day, Patterson, Day, Hickey and Ratten. Players are asked to meet at the Rex Theatre at 2:30 for transportation.

Saanich Thistles—Rowe, Gibbons, Leggett, Williams, Morson, A. Speller, Price, Barney Brown, Vigors, Armitage, Duncan and Shoukide.

Victoria City—Farquhar, Moody, McMillan, D. Robertson, Waggie, Pepin, Murray, Johnson, Stewart, Holmes, Vigors, Purnal and McLellan.

HUGE CROWDS WILL ATTEND WORLD SERIES

49,000 Expected To Watch Opening Game at New York

Sell-Out Looked for as Giants and Senators Clash in First of World Series Tuesday — Rival Managers Expect Keenly-Fought Fixtures — Pitchers May Decide Champions

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP).—The razzle-dazzle of the world series worked around to the box office department today, as the faithful flocked to the Polo Grounds to see the opening game of the series between the New York Giants and the Washington Senators.

It will be tomorrow night at the Polo Grounds that the two teams will meet for the first time. The Giants, who are the defending champions, will be the home team. The Senators, who are the new team, will be the visiting team.

The largest crowd in the world series history at the Polo Grounds was the 49,243 that jammed the park for the fourth game of the 1925 series with the Senators.

PICK UP POINTERS
With his pitchers clustered close around him, Bill Terry and the rest of the Giants sought to pick up a few last-minute pointers on the strength and weakness of the Senators, and saw considerable of both. In two days of watching Terry has seen the Senators score seven runs against the Yanks, enough runs, in fact, to last the Giants through a couple of crucial series. Besides seeing Whitehill today, he saw Wally Stewart, rated second to Earl as a starting southpaw, and Alvin Crowder, Washington's top right-hander, belted for eleven runs yesterday.

MUTUAL ADMIRATION
"Mutual Admiration Society" has two new members in Joe Cronin and Bill Terry, at least for the time being, and while they are busy shaping their plans for the world series war, beginning next Tuesday at the Polo Grounds. No quarter will be asked or given once the umpire-in-chief dusts off home plate and shouts "Let's go," but there is an off-the-field friendliness and on-the-field respect for each other that marks the rival managers of the Senators and Giants as two of baseball's most engaging and colorful personalities.

"Joe is a great guy, a wonderful shortstop, and he has done a swell job in bringing the Senators through to the top, from all I have been told," remarks the black-haired, dark-eyed boss of the Giants. "You can't help but admire Terry for the spirit and drive he put into the Giants this year," says Cronin. "They showed they could produce the stuff, just the way our club has done. It should be a great series from every standpoint. I shouldn't be surprised to see it go six or seven games, unless one team of the other is lucky enough to get most of the breaks."

MANAGERS AGREE
Cronin agrees with Terry, too, pitching will decide the series. "Hubbell must be as great as they all tell me he is," says Cronin, his blue eyes twinkling, "but I have the

Vines and Stoefen Win Doubles Title

COVERING the court with remarkable agility, Ellsworth Vines, Jr., and Lester Stoefen won the Pacific Southwest doubles championship without difficulty over Johnny Van Ryn, of Davis Cup fame, and Gerald Stratford, of San Francisco. Aside from a slight letdown in the third set, when Van Ryn and Stratford broke through the two California net stars' service, Vines and Stoefen easily dominated the play. The gallery was amazed at the machine-like teamwork displayed by the victors. Vines and Stoefen are pictured in the background, while Van Ryn and Stratford are seen in the foreground.

NEAR RIOT ENDS BOUT IN PARIS

Fans Take Exception When Referee Stops Kid Chocolate-Nick Bena Bout

PARIS, Sept. 29 (AP).—Kid Chocolate, featherweight boxing champion, scored a technical knockout over Nick Bena in the final round of a ten-round match tonight that almost precipitated a riot. Referee Rene Schemann stopped the fight after Bena had been felled for a nine count, and the judges concurred in Schemann's decision. The crowd thought differently, however, and in the midst of the roar of protest miscellaneous missiles deluged the ring. Police reinforcements were required to quiet the crowd.

Bena was willing badly under Chocolate's punches when the referee intervened. Each weighed 125 pounds.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

The soccer season, as far as Victoria is concerned, may now be deemed in full swing. Although it had taken some time, owing to the number of clubs which applied for entrance in the first and second divisions of the home series, and the difficulty in obtaining grounds and the drafting of schedules, the work is now complete. The revised schedule for the city senior league was released yesterday, and the five clubs will battle for first half honors until December 19. The clubs seeking the honors are J.B.A.A. Equimail, Victoria West, Cedar Hill and Fifth Regiment. The Pacific Coast League is comprised of Lady-smith, Nanaimo, Vancouver and Victoria. There is a possibility that Seattle may seek a franchise later in the season.

From London, England, comes a report that intense interest is being manifested in sporting circles in the match for the English scoring championship, which will take place on October 12, between George Towns, the Australian champion, and the drafting of schedules, the work is now complete. The revised schedule for the city senior league was released yesterday, and the five clubs will battle for first half honors until December 19. The clubs seeking the honors are J.B.A.A. Equimail, Victoria West, Cedar Hill and Fifth Regiment. The Pacific Coast League is comprised of Lady-smith, Nanaimo, Vancouver and Victoria. There is a possibility that Seattle may seek a franchise later in the season.

The leadership in batting for the major leagues, so long held by the star of the American League, Ty Cobb, of Detroit, has passed into the hands of Hans Wagner, the Pittsburgh wonder, although Cobb still retains the top place in his own league. Wagner and Cobb have been setting the pace all year, and as the leagues are just about to close for the season, both can coast to the batting honors without any opposition. Wagner has been hitting at a 200 clip during the past three weeks and will finish with the highest average of the year in either league.

First practice of the Victoria grass hockey club will be held Saturday. John Hart, captain of the club, announced yesterday. Plenty of material is on deck this year, and the capital city squad is expected to make a strong bid for the British Columbia championship.

Jim Corbett, former heavyweight champion, gave out a statement yesterday in San Francisco concerning the forthcoming world's championship battle between Tommy Burns, present holder, and Jack Johnson, giant colored fighter. Corbett stated that Johnson would beat Burns with ease, as he is a close big and clever and carries a wicked blow with either fist.

Local Tennis Stars Given Top Rankings In British Columbia

Ross Hocking and Miss Mary Campbell Awarded First Places in Province — Don Campbell, Marsh Gordon and Helen Campbell Ranked

Top-ranking positions in British Columbia tennis circles were awarded to Ross "Bud" Hocking and Miss Mary Campbell, Victoria's two stars of the past season, according to the official ratings released here yesterday by J. L. Nicholson, of Vancouver, president of the provincial association. Other Victorians who gained recognition in the first ten among the men and women were: Don Campbell, Marsh Gordon and Helen Campbell. Don Campbell was given third berth, while Marsh Gordon and Helen Campbell figured tenth and eleventh, respectively.

Hocking's fine showing in the various major events throughout the province, against the stiffest of American opposition, raised him to the pinnacle of British Columbia tennis. Oesle Ryall, Vancouver, took second place, and Don Campbell was placed third. Jack Brown, another Mainlander, was given fourth position. All the rest, except Marsh Gordon, are Vancouver players.

Winning of the provincial women's crown at the Willows and her fine display in the Canadian meet in Vancouver, forced the ranking committee to put Miss Mary Campbell in first place with little argument. Her record during the season was sensational and it speaks for itself. Caroline Deacon, Vancouver, was ranked second and Muriel Munro, another Mainlander, took third berth. Helen Campbell intercepted the string of Vancouver rankings by taking eighth place.

RANKINGS
Men—1, R. Hocking, Victoria; 2, O. Ryall, Vancouver; 3, D. Campbell, Victoria; 4, Jack Brown, Vancouver; 5, G. Shields, Vancouver; 6, R. Sidaway, Vancouver; 7, B. Haydon, Vancouver; 8, Cameron, Vancouver; 9, Sparling, Vancouver; 10, Marsh Gordon, Victoria.

Dr. D. G. Ingham has been appointed official club physician and in future will be in attendance at all games played in Nanaimo, to render medical aid if needed.

Major: About this hand grenade accident. You told the man to put out the pin, went ten, and then throw it, didn't you?

Women's Influence Widens Its Scope

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (CP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt told an audience at the Exposition of Women's Arts and Industries, now being held here, that with women's ever-increasing influence in every walk of life, they have that much more responsibility.

"It is always a thrill to see what women are doing, and what they can do, in business. It adds to my already firm conviction that women are becoming more and more of an influence in every walk of life."

With Mrs. Roosevelt on the platform was Miss Marie Dressler, actress, who said, "You can't tell me what women can do. I know. Don't ever be pessimistic. That's my commandment."

FOUR HOOP TEAMS WILL COMPETE AT SHAWNIGAN LAKE

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Sept. 29.—At a meeting in the S.L.A.A. Hall on Tuesday, basketball enthusiasts gathered to organize for the season. J. C. Davidson, retiring manager, was in the chair.

Although last season was brought to a premature close, owing to financial difficulties, the club was reorganized, with the hope that a larger membership might result successfully this year. It is expected that the line-up will include two women's and two men's teams, and also a junior division.

Those holding office this year are: Manager, E. Lewington; chairman, J. C. Davidson; secretary, M. Dunnett; assistant secretary, F. L. Walcott. The women's executive will be decided later.

The first practice will be held next Tuesday at 7:30 o'clock.

WANT JURY NOW; NONE AVAILABLE

EDMONTON, Sept. 29 (CP).—Dismissal of the entire jury panel at the opening of Alberta Supreme Criminal Court, last Monday, was the cause of a judicial tangle today when the trials of five men, charged with unlawful assembly, were scheduled.

When the cases of Charles Stewart and Andrew Irvine were called, E. B. Cogswell, K.C., Crown prosecutor, informed Mr. Justice Ford these men now demanded trial by judge and jury. They had previously intimated they would take trial by judge alone, but have since changed their minds.

"What do they mean by road-worthiness, Dick?" "When you've invested in your Austin, Mother, you'll see."

Futures Gain More Than Cent as Exporters Buy
 at Winnipeg

WINNIEPEG, Sept. 26 (CP).—Heavy export purchases, estimated at 2,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, gave a boost to futures prices in the Grain Exchange today. Offerings were easily absorbed and the close left values with gains of 1-1/2 cents over yesterday's final prices.

A recession from the high spots occurred before the finish, but final quotations were chalked up with gains of 1/2 cent to 3/4 cent.

October option finished at 621-1/4 November at 625-8, December at 631-8, and May at 677-8 cents.

Operations were brisk in the latter after mid-season, spreading between the October and the deferred options for a part of the activity.

There was a change of hands in evidence. A large volume of wheat changed hands as the export movement gained momentum, quickly taking the offerings.

LETTER EVASIVE

JOHN DAY SAYS

Claims Administrator Is Directly Misleading Public in Statement to Council

In a letter to the City Council, John Day takes exception to a letter written by E. W. Griffiths, administrator of the provincial unemployment relief office, it was learned yesterday.

Following is Mr. Day's letter:

"Dealing with the letter from Mr. Griffiths to your council and published in the press, may I state that it would appear very misleading and evasive.

"The few weeks that have elapsed since Mr. Griffiths, in his new appointment, is what he apparently refers to. I am not dealing with this, Mr. Griffiths in his previous office should know that my statements are correct.

"Following a report I gave, stating that the city accounts had had no proper check and were passed by Mr. Griffiths' department, he received instructions to hand over these accounts to another depart-connected with the labor department. This department, month after month, checked up and returned these accounts, with deductions, to Mr. Griffiths' department, leaving him with the conviction that he deserves credit for their part in protecting public monies. Mr. Griffiths knows that and his reply has nothing to do with the question at issue.

"All these deductions struck off the taxpayer had to pay 100 per cent, instead of 33 1/3 per cent, for the privilege of doing this."

"I am sure that you do not deny this," said Mr. Griffiths, "and I am sure you know my statements are true in fact and substance, and has many times, like other officials, complained to me upon my duties as investigator."

Brief discussions on different applications of sleight-of-hand tricks took place. The following members demonstrated several of their tricks: J. Cummings, J. G. Little, J. Bow, A. Lambie, E. Crockford and Herbert Doherty.

Minister: "Now, Barleycorn, why don't you fight against your long-look for drink? When you are tempted, think of your wife at home."

"RUBY," "AQUAMARINE," "TURQUOISE"

"I was so interested in your articles on the origin of the names 'jade' and 'amethyst.' Can you give us also the stories of the words, 'ruby,' 'aquamarine,' 'turquoise'?"

"Ruby" we have, through the French, from the Latin "rubere"—to be red.

"Aquamarine" also describes itself. What's more appropriate to name the transparent, greenish blue gem than "sea water"—the Latin "aqua marina"?

From the French we have "turquoise," the feminine of the old French "turcois," meaning "Turkish." For this blue-green or green-blue stone, technically "hydrous phosphate of aluminum," originally was brought from Turkey.

PLACE OF CROSS TO BE OUTLINED

Rev. H. P. Luttrell Will Deal With Theology of Group Movement
Tomorrow Evening

"Lonely Christianity" will be the subject of the sermon at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning, the preacher being the minister, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, who believes fellowship, not isolation, to be the law of vital and vigorous religion. In the evening Mr. Luttrell's sermon will be of special interest to both friends and critics of the Group Movement. The theme will be "The Place of the Cross in the Group Movement." The position will be taken that the meanings of the cross of Christ may not be theologically explicit, but they are dynamically implicit in the teaching and method of this Movement.

In the morning the soloist will be Miss Doris Rawlin, who will sing "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," a composition of Gounod. The choir will sing T. Tertius Noble's anthem, "O Wisdom." In the evening James J. Matheson will sing "Consider and Hear Me," by Wooler. The evening anthem will be "Glory to Thee, My God, This Night," by Gounod.

An analysis of all the 29,000 names listed in "Who's Who in America," reveals that more persons report themselves as Episcopalians than their allegiance to any other denominational group. Indeed, says Dr. Luther C. Fry, director of The Standards Institute of Social and Religious Research, such denominations as Unitarian, Reformed, Universalist and Episcopalian bodies, have more than six times as many representatives in "Who's Who" as one might expect from the membership strength of these denominations.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

THE DANGER OF WASTES IN MENTAL AND OTHER AILMENTS

One of the penalties of our advanced civilization is that the large intestine, six feet in length, which holds all the wastes from the foods, sometimes becomes so slow in its action that these wastes or poisons are absorbed into the blood. In addition to this, this extra weight of waste matter has a tendency to pull down the other organs toward the lower part of the abdomen. Sometimes there are little "loops" or extra bends in the large intestine, and these also slow up, or may stop for a time, the downward flow of the waste matter.

Thus a few years ago it was not unusual for surgeons to remove a portion of the large intestine to get rid of a little kink or loop. A few years ago it was found that by the use of high injections or colonic irrigations the intestine could be kept in better "tone," and surgery was often unnecessary.

Dr. H. A. Cotton, Trenton, N.J., states that "the greatest contribution which physical therapy—electricity, colonic irrigation, exercise—has made to the treatment of mental cases has been in the treatment of intestinal stasis (stoppage), but unless other sources of infection in the body—teeth, tonsils, gall bladder—are removed, the treatment of the intestinal tract will not be successful."

Treatment by physical therapy has taken the place of surgical operations in 80 per cent of the cases which show intestinal stasis. Of course all mental cases will not be cured by this treatment of the large intestine, but it is now one of the first and most important methods of treatment.

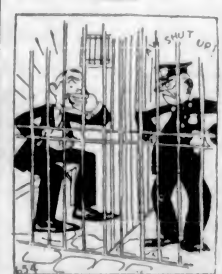

Removing wastes from intestine and not removing infected teeth, tonsils, or other infected parts, is like removing the manufactured goods from a factory but not closing down the factory. The factory continues to manufacture the goods (poisons).

Removing infection or poisons from the other parts and not from the intestine also, is like closing down the factory but not removing the goods from the shelves.

These goods (poisons) may remain in the system for months, even years, if not removed. The ideal method then, in normal or any chronic ailments, is to get rid of the parts making the poison, and the wastes in large intestine also.
